

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Mr. Solomon Kolawole Awe

Mr. Awe teaches in the Department of Philosophy, College of Humanities and Culture, Ikire Campus, Osun State University, Osogbo, Nigeria. He holds Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees in Philosophy from Obafemi Awolowo University, Ile-Ife and the University of Ibadan, Ibadan, respectively. He is currently a doctoral student in the Department of Philosophy, Osun State University. His research interests include: metaphysics, African social and political philosophy, philosophy of culture, and existentialism.

E-mail: awesolomon90@gmail.com

Dr. Musibau Olusola Lawal

Dr. Lawal teaches English in the Department of English and Literary Studies, College of Humanities and Culture, Ikire Campus, Osun State University, Osogbo, Nigeria. His area of speciality is linguistic stylistics. He has published articles in reputable peer-reviewed journals.

E-mail: musbau.lawal@uniosun.edu.ng

Dr. Nurudeen Adeshina Lawal

Dr. Lawal is a Lecturer in the Department of English and Literary Studies, College of Humanities and Culture, Ikire Campus, Osun State University, Osogbo, Nigeria. His areas of teaching and research include dramatic literature, literary theory and criticism, literature and political violence, creative writing, and popular culture and mass media. He has published articles in reputable local and international journals.

E-mail: nurudeen.lawal@uniosun.edu.ng

Mr. Kodirov Javlonbek

Mr. Javlonbek is a researcher at the National University of Uzbekistan, Department of Philosophy, Tashkent, Uzbekistan. His areas of interest include philosophy of mind, epistemology, ontology and logic. He has published a number of papers in local and international academic journals, and attended local and international conferences, including XXV World Congress of Philosophy, Rome, Italy in August, 2024; European Academy of Religion (EuARE 2025) “Religion and Transformation in Contemporary Society” in Vienna, Austria in July, 2025; and The International Academic Conference on International Friends and Asian Diplomatic History (June, 2025), among others.

E-mails: j.qodirov@nuu.uz & javlonkodirov06@gmail.com

Dr. Arif Marifi

Dr. Marifi is a historian and cultural diplomat specialising in the history of the Turkic world and international relations, and regional and international terrorism. Since January 2025, he has been serving as the Director of the Heydar Aliyev Azerbaijan Cultural Centre in Uzbekistan. He is a graduate of Baku State University and the Academy of Public Administration under the President of Azerbaijan. His work focuses on strengthening Uzbek-Azerbaijani humanitarian ties through the establishment of academic centres and the implementation of regional cultural projects.

E-mails: culcenter.az@gmail.com & akf.marifli@gmail.com

Rev. Fr. Dr. Emmanuel Adetokunbo Ogundele

Fr. Ogundele is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Philosophy, Augustine University, Ilara-Epe, Lagos, Nigeria. He is a priest of the Catholic Diocese of Ekiti and has taught philosophy at the Seminary of Saints Peter and Paul, Bodija, Ibadan (an affiliate of the University of Ibadan, Ibadan, and Pontifical Urban University, Rome, Italy) for many years. In addition to teaching philosophy, he is the Director of Operations at Augustine University, Ilara-Epe.

E-mail: emmanuel.ogundele@augustineuniversity.edu.ng

Dr. Sunday Layi Oladipupo

Dr. Oladipupo is a Reader/Associate Professor in the Department of Philosophy, Adekunle Ajasin University, Akungba-Akoko, Ondo State, Nigeria. His areas of competence and interests include African philosophy, moral and socio-political philosophy, with many published articles in reputable peer-reviewed journals, locally and internationally. He has attended and presented scientific papers at local and international conferences. He is the co-editor of The Polemics of an African Philosophy: Essays in Honour of Professor Segun Ogungbemi (2016). He is the editor of African Philosophy: Whose Past and Which Modernity (2021). He is also the author of Justice in Yoruba Culture (2024).

E-mail: layioladipupo@gmail.com

Dr. Michael Olatunji Oni

Dr. Oni teaches in the Department of Philosophy, College of Humanities and Culture, Ikire Campus, Osun State University, Osogbo, Nigeria. He holds a Bachelor of Arts (Hons), Master of Arts and Ph.D degrees in Philosophy from the University of Lagos, Akoka and a Master of Arts in African and Diaspora Studies from the same institution. He has research interests in metaphysics, existentialism, continental philosophy, and African socio-political philosophy. He is also a Carnegie scholar and participated in the Pan-African Doctoral Academy (PADA) at the University of Ghana, Legon, Accra in 2018.

E-mail: michael.oni@uniosun.edu.ng

Dr. Dias Pavlovich Shakenov

Dr. Shakenov is a scholar whose academic interests focus on social philosophy and the philosophy of ecology. He studies global environmental challenges and actively collaborates with the Philosophical Society of Uzbekistan and the National University of Uzbekistan named after Mirzo Ulugbek, with more than 30 scientific papers on the formation of new ecological ideas. At the moment, he is conducting research under the supervision of Professor Natalya Lvovna Seitakhmetova of the National Academy of Sciences of the Republic of Kazakhstan, and Professor Niginakhon Arslonovna Shermuhamedova of National University of Uzbekistan.

E-mail: shakenovdias@mail.ru